FARM BILL VETO BOOSTS PLAN TO DRAFT COOLIDGE

Hoover's Path to Party
Nomination Hard Hit

CAPITAL DEBATES EFFECT OF VETO

Slam-Bang Fight Certain
At Convention, View
Of Politicians

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

Washington, May 24.—President Coolidge's stinging veto rebuke of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill and the political effect thereof was hotly debated in Washington today wherever two or more politicians met.

There were, however, some broad conclusions upon which there was general agreement, to-wit:

President Coolidge has enhanced the possibility of his being drafted at Kansas City.

Herbert Hoover's path to the nomination has been rendered infinitely more difficult and his election if nominated has been made correspondingly more difficult.

The anti-Hoover allies have been given a new toe-hold from which to direct their assault on Hoover in particular and upon the Agrarian policy of the administration in general.

Irrespective of who is nominated at Kansas City, there will be a slam bang Republican fight over the farm issue comparable in intensity and feeling to the expected prohibition fight at the Democratic convention.

Urges Coxey's Army

That the leaders of the Republican Agrarians are sore and that they are going to Kansas City primed for a red-hot fight there is no doubt. Gov. Adam McMillan, (R) of Nebraska, for example, already is urging that Coxey's army of 100,000 mid-west farmers "march on the Kansas City convention and as American free men demand economic justice."

The McNary-Haugen bill has distinguished sponsors in the party, not the least of whom are Vice President Charles G. Dawes, and Frank O. Lowden, to say nothing of the Republican stalwarts in the senate who voted for it like Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana; Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas and host of others. It is not contemplated that they will take, lying down, such a verbal lashing as was handed them in the Coolidge veto message. They do not particularly relish being accused of "cruelly deceiving" and "falsely promising" and "economically hoaxing" the farmers.

Oddly enough, a large part of the Republican mid-west resentment, as voiced here, is directed against Hoover rather than Coolidge. The political explanation is that he is more vulnerable and offers a better target.

Say He Influenced Coolidge

The mid-westerners blame him for largely influencing the president to take such a positive stand against the McNary-Haugen bill last year, and they also continually keep alive the charge that he fixed the price of wheat during the war to the detriment of the American farmer and the benefit of the European consumer.

It is in line with this theory that a good many of the practical politicians of Washington believe President Coolidge was influenced by the McNary-Haugen bill last year, and they also continually keep alive the charge that he fixed the price of wheat during the war to the detriment of the American farmer and the benefit of the European consumer.

ALLEN CASE TO BE TRIED FIRST

Judge Lones Overrules A Motion of Solicitor
In Kasso Case

The motion filed by City Solicitor Cecil K. Scott of Salem to have the dam case against the city, filed against it by James Kasso and Julia Rossi, tried before that of A. Ward Allen as the former case is the first on the active trial list, has been overruled by Judge W. F. Lones.

The entry in this case shows that for good cause the Allen case be tried now, but to all of which the defendants have entered an exception.

In this action Allen seeks $5,000 damages against the city, it being one of the several similar cases now pending. It is likely that the Allen case will go to trial within a few weeks. The suits charge alleged pollution from the sewage disposal plant damaged nearby land.

PROBERS COMING TO STATE SOON

Washington, May 24.—The Steiwer senate committee decided today to visit Ohio, Indiana, New York, California and possibly West Virginia in its search of presidential campaign expenditures.

Ohio and Indiana will be visited immediately after adjournment.

Pastor To Speak At Memorial Service

REV. GEORGE KEISTER

Rev. George Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church, has been selected as the speaker at the afternoon service Memorial day at Hope cemetery. This service will be in charge of the G. A. R. and its allied organizations, and will follow the afternoon parade.

CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS COUNTY HOME OF JUNE 20

Question of Children's Home to Come Up At Carrollton Meet

A district meeting of the state department of public welfare will be held at Carrollton June 20, under the auspices of the state division of charities.

Mavor Phil G. Hiddleston conferred Wednesday with Miss Mary B. Minnich of the welfare department in the interests of the proposed Columbiana county children's home, which will be one of the main subjects for discussion at the meeting.

The general topic discussed at the meeting will be "Prevention of Child Dependency and Delinquency." The district session will open at 9 a. m. and continue through the day until 4:30, with Belle Greve, state superintendent of the division of charities, in charge.

The state welfare department is showing much interest in Hiddleston's suggestion that Columbiana county build its own children's home, due to the crowded condition of the Fairmount home, and is sending representatives each week to confer with him on the topic.

Action on the issue either for or against the home is due to start at the meeting.

Hiddleston will take the matter up with local churches previous to the date set for the meeting and expects to have a large delegation from Salem and Columbiana county attend the meeting to discuss the issue from a local angle.

Six counties will be represented at the meeting, Columbiana, Stark, Mahoning, Harrison, Jefferson and Tuscarawas. The meeting will be one of a series of 12 to be held this spring in connection with the complex social problems of the state in different districts. The problems of decreasing child problems through adequate mothers' pensions, utilization of private groups and proper care at homes will be discussed.

Prominent state juvenile judges and county officials will be included on the program.

Child, 7, Is Buried Alive As Boys Play In Sandpile "Cave"

Cleveland, May 24.—The playmates of John Markham, 7, today mourned his death, the result of being buried alive and suffocated to death last night, police asserted.

The youth was playing with six other boys in a sand pile. After sliding down its side, John crawled into a small "cave" he had made. As another boy slid down the next time, a small avalanche of soil spread over the mouth of the "cave" and the boy was buried under the sand.

Two pedestrians dug the child out but were unable to revive him.

Pageant In Costume Will Be Presented By Luther League

The Luther League of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church is presenting a pageant in costume at the church Friday at 7:30 p. m.

It is a pageant of South America presenting the need and the opportunity for Christian education and the part that the youth of America can have in supplying this need.

The pageant opens with South America calling the roll of her republics, who in turn cite the physical advantages of their respective countries.

An episode, "The Search for Happiness" follows, showing the republics, the evils that threaten them to-

SALEM OFFICIALS INSPECT TORONTO POWER STATION

Big Current Producing Plant Along River
Viewed By Delegation Wednesday; Plan
For More Such Trips In Future

E. F. Hauser, district manager of the Penn-Ohio Power & Light company, headed a delegation of Salem city officials and others to Toronto Wednesday for the purpose of viewing the giant power station of the Ohio-Edison company, which furnishes the light and power current for this community.

The trip was made in a special bus to East Liverpool, where the party was transferred to a special observation car and the trip completed over the traction line. There were 17 persons in the party.

The party was met at the power plant by Penn-Ohio officials and an hour was devoted to a general inspection of the property. A lunch was served after which a complete tour of the mammoth buildings was made.

Competent instructors explained every branch of the development in non-technical terms, so that a layman might have a general idea of this undertaking.

Outlay of $19,000,000 At the present time the plant, with its transmission lines to the field which it serves, of which Youngstown is the center, represents a total outlay of $19,000,000.

The plant consists of three units, headed a delegation of Salem city officials and others to Toronto Wednesday for the purpose of viewing the giant power station of the Ohio-Edison company, which furnishes the light and power current for this community.

Wen't Talk About It

Florence Trumbull, daughter of the Governor of Connecticut, is still non-committal regarding the widespread rumor that she is engaged to John Coolidge, son of President Coolidge. She is willing to talk on any subject except that which she will neither deny or affirm.

But 17 Civil War Vets Left In Post

Only nine members of the Salem Post, G. A. R., will take part in Salem's annual Memorial day services Wednesday May 30.

Each year the post's representation in the Memorial day parades has become smaller. This year the Salem post, once known as the largest post in Ohio in proportion to size of the city, with a roll of 300 members in good standing, has decreased to 17, only nine of whom are able to participate in any extensive activities of the post.

The nine who will take part in next Wednesday's services are Charles Bonnell, William Pidgeon, Smith R. Reed, L. M. Stamp, William Reynolds, Henry Older, Thomas Crooks, and George Smith.

Eight other members are still on the roll, but are ill, bedfast, or so infirm by age that it is impossible for them to appear.

They are Fred Christen, William R. Reed, John Everhart, George Fisher, Albert Toman, M. G. Rubel, M. L. Young and Henry Getz.

Approximately 500 graves of Civil war vets will be decorated Memorial day in Salem's cemeteries. A flag will also be placed at the head of each grave.

Lake Erie Rum War Nets Large Seizures

Painesville, May 24.—Nearly 250,000 lb. liquor, boats and automobiles have been confiscated on Lake Erie in the first three months of the federal campaign against Canadian rum-running, by coast guard patrol vessels working out of Lake Erie ports according to Martin Rasmussen, Buffalo, N. Y., in charge of the ninth coast guard district, who is visiting his home here.

Rasmussen declared that one of the 42 armed rum chasers under his command can make 50 miles an hour. He said when 40 more chasers are added to his present fleet next month, he will have 82 boats to aid in patrolling approximately 750 miles of coast line.

POSTAL SALARY BILL IS PASSED

Washington, May 24.—President Coolidge suffered a defeat today when the senate passed the postal pay increase bill over his veto by a vote of 70 to 9.

The bill became a law by the senate's action, as the house yesterday enacted it over the veto by a vote of 319 to 42. The bill will increase the pay of night workers in the postal service.

NANKING ENVOY PRESENTS CASE OF ALL CHINESE

Dr. Wu Will Be Received
By Secretary Kellogg
Late This Week

FEELS JAPAN HAS VIOLATED TREATY

Requests That European Nations Be Called To Curb Tokyo's Aims

Washington, May 24.—A formal request that the United States convey representatives of the European powers to curb Japan's occupation of Manchuria will be presented to Secretary of State Kellogg by Dr. C. C. Wu, special envoy of the Nanking government.

Wu will be received by Kellogg late this week or early next, it was announced at the state department.

Aside from the declaration that he will attempt to present the case for all China, the Chinese statesman declined to discuss for publication in advance of his reception at the state department, the detailed outline of his aims.

He talked freely, however, concerning public opinion in China as related to the Japanese ultimatum that no Chinese troops will be permitted to invade Manchuria.

China feels strongly that Japan has flagrantly violated the nine-power Washington treaty of 1922 guaranteeing the political and territorial integrity of China.

Kellogg has stated officially since the publication of the Japanese ultimatum that the United States recognizes no special rights of any power in Manchuria, beyond the Japanese rights under the Japanese lease of the Manchurian railroad.

Under the Washington treaty, the powers are obligated to consider jointly what action shall be taken when any signatory violates Chinese sovereignty.

As sponsor of the Washington conference, in the Chinese view, responsibility for the first step in this direction rests with the United States.

Question Japan's Aims Despite repeated assertions by the Japanese government that she is in Manchuria and Shantung only to protect her vital interests and the lives of her nationals, Chinese sentiment openly questions the Japanese aims.

Chinese newspapers stress the charge that President Wilson permitted the Japanese occupation of Shantung in 1919 in return for Tokyo's adherence to the league of nations. The question is asked in China today: "Will the United States sanction the occupation of Manchuria in return for Japanese adherence to the Kellogg proposals for the universal renunciation of war?"

Japan has not replied to the Kellogg note of April 13 suggesting the multi-lateral treaty for the outlawry of war, although all other powers have responded. Within the past week official advices from Tokyo have intimated a Japanese reply forthwith.

AMBUSH ITALIAN RESTAURANTEUR

Shot and Killed When He Leaves Cafe Today
In Cleveland

Cleveland, May 24.—Raffaele Pontallone, well known proprietor of a restaurant in "Little Italy" district of Cleveland, was shot from ambush and almost instantly killed early today, and Mrs. Estelle Noon, a waitress, was slightly wounded as the two started for a street car after Pontallone closed his cafe, police declared.

Both were on their way to their respective homes, Mrs. Noon said, when the shooting occurred.

Pontallone was shot five times and police found that his whole face was smashed in by three or four bullets of a 44-caliber revolver. Mrs. Noon suffered a slight flesh wound in the left shoulder.

Authorities believe circumstances pointed either to a "blackhand" or bootleg feud as cause of the slaying of the restaurateur.

JUSTICE THROWS EDITOR IN JAIL FOR EDITORIAL

Lancaster Daily Gazette
Chief Sentenced For Contempt Today

Lancaster, May 24.—Charging that an editorial in the Lancaster Daily Gazette was too critical of the decision of his court, Justice of the Peace E. W. Boerstler, of Fairfield county, today gave William T. Lewis, editor of the paper and author of the editorial a $20 fine and a sentence of 10 days in the county jail.

Lewis was arrested when he arrived at the Gazette office for work this morning. In his editorial he ridiculed action of the court in regard to the small fine given Roy Kahler, of Columbus on an assault charge brought by Eleanor Pickering, also of Columbus.

He was given a hearing immediately on charges of contempt of court and thrown in jail shortly after the sentence was meted out by the justice of the peace.

Fined But $10 and Sentenced to Jail for 10 Days

The editorial appeared in yesterday's issue of the Gazette along with a news story of the assault on a road near Lancaster. Miss Pickering was found unconscious along the road by a farmer early yesterday. She claimed that Kahler assaulted her and threw her out of the car in which they were riding.

Kahler was given a fine of $10 when he pleaded guilty of the charge before Justice Boerstler. He paid the fine and was released.

In his editorial Lewis said: "Verily the ways of justice are queer, when a man will receive $100 and cost for the possession of liquor and another receives a small fine for endangering the life of a human being."

FOUR VIOLENT CANTON DEATHS

Murder, Two Suicides and Accident Recorded In District Today

Canton, O., May 24.—A total of four deaths occurred in this district today, the result of a murder, two suicides and an accident.

John Mosgrove, 45, a farmer at Bowdell, near here, shot and killed Clarence D. Fulton, 49, a life-long friend, and then ended his own life with a small revolver. Mosgrove, according to Coroner T. C. McQuate, was intoxicated and the two men quarreled. Both were unmarried.

Edward Volland, 59, becoming despondent, shot himself in the head at his home in Louisville, this county. McQuate said.

Frank Barnett, 27, Cleveland, was instantly killed when he fell five stories from a local department store while washing windows.

DROP FLAGS FROM BALLOON ON POLE

Ship Passes Over Top Of World at 1:20 A. M., Is Radio Message

King's Bay, Spitzbergen, May 24.—The Italian exploration balloon Italia, commanded by Gen. Umberto Nobile, flew over the North Pole at 1:20 a. m., Thursday.

Gen. Nobile reported this achievement by radio from the dirigible.

The national flag of Italy and the municipal flag of Milan were dropped upon the polar ice cap as well as the cross which was given to the Italian explorer by Pope Pius XI.

On account of weather conditions no attempt was made to land at the pole.

Gen. Nobile, as the balloon was soaring over the top of the world, addressed messages to his wife and to Premier Mussolini, of Italy.

It had been planned to station the balloon for two hours over the North Pole to enable two scientists of the expedition to make a landing upon the ice floes for scientific research. It was hoped also that the Papal cross could be planted in the ice with appropriate religious services.

Both of these plans failed owing to the unfavorable atmospheric conditions.

HUNT BANDITS WHO SLAY PAIR AND TAKE CASH

Lamar, Col., Bank Looted
By Gang of Five For Whom Poses Search

Denver, May 24.—Southern Colorado was engaged today in an extensive man hunt for the bandits, believed to be five in number, who held up the First National Bank of Lamar, Col., killed A. N. Parrish, 75, president, and his son, John P. Parrish, 33, cashier, and made away with approximately $7,000 in cash and between $100,000 and $200,000 in Liberty bonds and other securities.

Three national Guard airplanes, 200 automobile loads of armed men and police officers of all towns in the southern part of the state were searching frantically for the bandits.

According to reports, the bandit car was seen in Trinidad, Col., where the robbers held up a drug store and demanded Mrs. J. B. Hughes Brown owner, to dress the wounds of one of the robbers. Mrs. Brown said the man was shot in two places and she believed him to be dying.

E. A. Lundgren, teller of the robbed bank, who was kidnapped by the thugs, was released two miles from Lamar because, Lundgren said, the bandits said he had only one arm and he was no good to them. E. A. Kesinger, the second teller who also was kidnapped, has not escaped, it is believed.

MULLINS GIVES TEAM BANQUET

Roessler Elected Captain
Of Track Squad For This Season

In recognition of its work this season, W. H. Mullins gave a banquet for the Track team of the Salem High school Wednesday evening at the Quaker Tea House, McKinley ave. Athletic Director Wilbur J. Spruiger, Assistant Coach Walter Wiffler and the managers were included in the guest list.

At this time Keith Roessler, senior, was chosen team captain for 1928, while Herman Litty was elected captain for 1929. Litty is a junior.

Later the boys went to the home of their host on Lincoln ave. and gave him a serenade, expressing their appreciation. Mr. Mullins invited the boys into the house for a visit, and they view his large collection of trophies.

DO NOT PRETEND

You would like to be considered out of the ordinary.

Perhaps your contact with those after whom you have tried to pattern has been with persons who are trying the same kind of bluff.

The so-called "right-hat" manner that these persons exhibit appeals to you as the proper thing for a person who is out of the ordinary.

So, by your manner, your speech, your dress and general demeanor, you are carrying out a studied effect quite foreign to your nature. If what is written so far is true of you, you have never met the really out-of-the ordinary people.

Really great men and women do not pretend what they are not. They are great because they are true to themselves.

Perhaps you have been disappointed in the persons whom you have met who have reached really high stations.

They did not reach the envied position by artificial means.

They have stood truly for something and have been recognized for what they really are.

You can't copy worth, you have to have it.

VANDALISM

Between Wellsville and East Liverpool, and between East Liverpool and West Point, all highway markers, numbering between 50 and 75, have been destroyed by vandals, the state highway department reports.

In some instances the markers were thrown over embankments. In other instances they were merely knocked off their supports and left lying by the roadside. In other instances they were mutilated beyond repair.

Just what it is in the makeup of a man that prompts vandalism of this calibre is beyond the comprehension of the average person. These highway markers are of utmost importance to motorists. They are the property of the taxpayers. They are paid for by money which autoists pay into the gasoline tax fund. And they could not possibly have caused their destroyers any trouble.

It is to be hoped the state highway department investigators apprehend those responsible for this destruction of public property. If they are apprehended, the limit of the law is none too severe for them.

OLD STATE DEBTS

There is renewed agitation in England for debts said to be due English bondholders from eight of our southern states. Those debts amounted originally to $75,000,000 and are now estimated, with interest to date, at over a quarter of a billion. They are said to represent money lent not to finance the Civil war, but money borrowed under the states' guarantee for railways, banks and other enterprises after the war. They were repudiated when the ventures failed.

Representatives of the British government, when asked to bring the matter to the notice of the United States government, refused on the ground that it would not be courteous. So officially nothing will be done about it.

Privately, however, the question is destined to be brought up over and over, as long as the British are repaying their war and post war indebtedness to the United States.

It may be that the states concerned will find it good policy, sooner or later, to disregard technicalities and assume these old obligations in some degree. They might adopt the principle on which our government is now collecting its foreign loans—that of paying "according to their ability," over a long period.

What Others Say

PUTS IT STRAIGHT

That the attitude of the United States toward Nicaragua is completely in accord with Latin-American policy has just been made clear by Charles Evans Hughes in elucidation of the Central American problem.

Mr. Hughes says the United States is now active in Nicaragua as a supporter in principle of the treaty entered into by five Latin-American nations in 1907. Nicaragua, Guatemala, Salvador, Honduras and Costa Rica then agreed among themselves not to recognize a government that came into power in any of these countries through a coup d'état or a revolution, unless the freely elected representatives of the people themselves had reorganized the government. This treaty was reaffirmed in 1923, in a Washington conference.

The United States was not a party to the treaty. But it was clear from its inception that it might not be effective, if it lacked the constructive support of the Washington government and this support has been given.

The question as to the recognition of de facto government, says Mr. Hughes, must be viewed in this aspect with respect to Central America. Then he goes on:

"The United States has had the option either of encouraging this effort on the part of the Central American republics to promote constitutional government or of discouraging or nullifying it."
Here, then, was the principle behind our refusal to recognize the Chamorrist government in Nicaragua, set up through a coup d'état. It was in support of the treaty to which Nicaragua itself was a party. To disregard that treaty, said Mr. Hughes, or to have dissuaded the five governments from adopting it, "would frankly place the United States on the side of bloodshed and disorder, as opposed to an effort, even if difficult and at times unsuccessful, to promote stability."Thus the United States' policy is one of non-intervention and of interposition, and we are in Nicaragua in the light of the five-nation treaty and to protect life and property of our nationals. Still further, we are there in keeping with our agreement to supervise the election—a condition which Mr. Hughes says, makes the other reasons academic.
"We have undertaken that duty," says this highest American authority on our policies in the Western hemisphere, "and under that agreement we must discharge it. We can not recede from that obligation; definitely incurred. That is the present Nicaraguan situation."—Minneapolis Journal.

GOOD WILL AMBASSADORS

During the past year the aviator has been the unofficial ambassador among the nations and has accomplished important results in promoting international good will. Hardly a year has passed since Col. Lindbergh, an unknown flyer at home, landed in Paris after an overseas flight alone. Not many Americans ever have exercised a more helpful influence in the development of good will between France and the United States. His adventure was startling, he was a plain, adventurous American flier, a sample of the citizens of this country, and a fine sample. The attitude of France to this country was changed because Lindbergh made the overseas visit. For some weeks this country has had as its guests the men who crossed the Atlantic in the airplane. Bremen. Two men from Germany, and one from Ireland, fine samples of the hardy manhood of the two countries. This country was thrilled with pride over the conduct of Lindbergh while abroad. That adventurous flier behaved with the wisdom that might have belonged to a veteran ambassador. In the same manner and for the same reasons the people of Germany may be proud of the course pursued by the two men of the Bremen crew, and Ireland never has had a representative abroad whose course was more helpful to that country.—Ohio State Journal.

CONFLICTING testimonies astrologically are found in this day's chart of the heavens. While there is a promise of much liveliness, with attendant financial movement, yet there are auguries of hostile and subtle attitudes in personal affairs as well as relative to important new adventures. A slight but unwelcome change is indicated and also there is a warning against accident or fire.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of contradictory conditions, with some signs of great activity, with corresponding financial gains, but also some hazards and imbalances in business, personal affairs and in dangers to the person or property. With supreme caution there may be fine success. United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Some of the world's most famous characters have been subject to "fits." Napoleon had them. Needless to say, the greatness of Napoleon did not result from the disease but was achieved in spite of it. It is a great affliction.

Epilepsy, or "fits," is what we call a "functional disease." That is, there is no visible or discoverable cause. In Bright's disease, for instance, there can be found perfectly evident changes in the kidney. In fatal heart disease the organic defects of that organ can be found.

But epilepsy is different. Scalpel cannot find or test-tube discover what is wrong. The nervous system is disturbed in some mysterious way. All we know is, that as a result, the victim falls to the ground, unconscious and usually in convulsions.

Some persons who are subject to epileptic attacks have a warning of what is coming. It is brief and so close to the seizure that nothing can be done except to utter a scream or groan. When this familiar sound is heard, it is a sure sign of what has happened or is about to happen.

On falling to the ground the victim clenches his hands till his finger nails dig into his palms. He kicks his feet, rolls his eyes upward, and, on account of the disturbed breathing, turns purple in the face.

Quite characteristic of epilepsy is the frothing at the mouth. A foamy-like lather gathers on the lips. This may become bloody, because almost always the victim bites his own tongue.

After a few minutes of struggling the victim awakens to consciousness or else falls into a natural sleep. When he awakens he is perfectly normal, unless there is a feeling of mental distress for a few hours. But of course, there is always the fear of recurrence, and the knowledge that this attack does not end this miserable trouble.

Much fruitless study has been given this disease. I have seen wonderful improvement follow the correction of eyestrain. The need of glasses for defective sight or to counteract weakness of the eye muscles, may be responsible for the drainage of nerve energy, shown by warning explosion. But alas! in many instances this treatment has failed.

I shall not attempt to mention all the suggested causes of epilepsy but I do wish to speak about one. Lately there has been much discussion of the relation of pus absorption, particularly from the large intestine, or elsewhere, to the development of functional nerve and brain disease. If I were to study a given case of epilepsy I should not overlook this possible causative factor.

Not only cases of epilepsy, but

NO FLOOD THIS YEAR AS WATER FALLS IN MISS.

Weather Bureau Experts Have Optimistic View For the Summer

Memphis, Tenn.—May 24.—“The Mississippi valley is safe. There will be no flood this year. Having reached its crest of 33 feet, the Mississippi river is falling. The annual thaw in the north has already sent its great volumes of water down the Fathers of Waters and the high stage of the river is passed.”

This, in brief, tells the optimistic story being passed along to residents of the Mississippi valley by the weather bureaus of the South and river experts.

A year ago the entire valley was submerged, the eyes of the entire nation were trained on a flooded southland where the disaster had driven many thousand people from their homes, caused hundreds of deaths and millions of dollars property damage.

Levees Crumbled
Levees were crumbling like playthings before the angry Mississippi and its tributaries, spring rains were falling throughout the territory drained by the great river and terror reigned throughout the valley. A few days back a frightened valley looked toward the great Mississippi to see it swelling rapidly as the annual thaw in the north sent great volumes of water hurrying towards the sea. Rains throughout Arkansas was overflowing the tributaries, Lowlands not protected by the government levees were covered with water.

The Mississippi was rising at an alarming pace. The Tennessee, White, Ohio and Arkansas rivers were filled to their banks and rushing madly towards the Father of Waters.

Prayers were offered in many vicinities. Weather experts said the fate of the valley depended on the strength of the patched up government levees and fair weather.

The rain ceased, only scattered rains falling in some sections. The waters of the tributaries rushed on to the Mississippi. The river at last reached its crest at Memphis, 33 feet, only two feet below flood stage. Meantime the tributaries had emptied their loads of water into the Mississippi. First the tributaries started falling, then the Mississippi itself.

Several thousands of acres of farmlands between the banks of the Mississippi and the government levees were already overflowed. Hundreds of acres of farmlands around Des Arc, Georgetown and Newport, Ark., were also submerged.

Water Reeding
Water this week was gradually leaving these lands much of which was already planted. Replanting will be late but in time to produce crops.

The only threat this spring's high water made on levees was near Georgetown, Ark., where 800 men worked for three days to hold the White river in its banks.

The eastern levee near Georgetown almost broke several times but the crest passed without it giving way.

But the same optimistic word, “There will be no flood this year,” is being passed along.

Anglo-Saxon Operas Must Be In English To Win World Place

Paris, May 24.—Great operas will never be produced by Anglo-Saxons until they begin singing them in English, says Sir Thomas Beecham, distinguished British orchestra leader who has recently given several performances at the opera in Paris.

Operatic productions, he says, do not have the popular support that is due them in England and America, because they are sung in foreign languages. It is considered the “chic” thing to do, but let the fashion for singing in English once get well-rooted, and the great English opera companies will become the most successful in the world.

Sir Thomas has a plan for an Opera League composed of genuine lovers of music of the middle class. He wants them to promise a small sum each year and more than that, to promise to attend regularly. According to this scheme, he will have the Opera House sold out five years ahead.

“Alluring” Girls Attract Athletes Is Paddock's View

Boston, May 24.—Athletic men are not attracted by athletic girls. They prefer the “gentler, more softly alluring type” of girl, Charlie Paddock, fastest human, is the author of the above opinion on an athlete's feminine preference.

Charlie, in training for the Olympic trials and games this summer, is making a tour of the country in the behalf of the Olympic Fund.

Paddock not only speaks for the athletes in general but also for himself in particular. “Here's an outline of my ideal girl,” said Charlie. “She must be beautiful; she must have charm, an ever present and indistinguishable charm. These things I insist upon.”

“I don't mind a lack of brains; personality will make up for that,” continued Charlie, in a remark that was original if not complimentary to the fair sex.

“I don't want an athletic girl and I think it is a mistake for a wife to have a career if her husband has one. If two persons are married, one should have an anchor in a real home. There's nothing like a home to make a marriage permanent.”

1,200 GRADUATES AT OHIO STATE

Commencement Jun. 11 In Ohio Stadium; Largest Class In History

Columbus, O., May 24.—A class 200 times the size of the first one graduated just 50 years ago will receive diplomas here June 11 at the fifty-first annual commencement at the Ohio State university. The present class will number approximately 1200, it was indicated in preliminary graduation lists prepared today.

With the groups graduated at the quarterly convocations in August, in December and in March, who are included in this year's class, the present class is the largest to be graduated in the history of the university. The total for the year is approximately 1800. The previous high mark was 1723 established in 1926. The class will make its first commencement appearance Saturday evening, June 9, when it will participate with the alumni in the annual “Sunset Supper” as the climax of the “Alumni Day” program. Baccalaureate exercises are scheduled for Sunday evening, June 10, in the stadium, and the commencement ceremonies proper at 6 p. m., Monday, June 11, also in the stadium.

The college of liberal arts with 218 prospective candidates has the largest single group in the class. The college of education is second with 208 and is followed by the college of engineering with 159 probable graduates, and by the college of commerce and administration and by the graduate school, each of which has 157.

Poisons His Mother To End Suffering, German Confesses

Berlin, May 24.—Because he loved his mother too much to be able to witness her long death agony, Alfred Neukrantz, 23, put poison into her drinking cup and made her end painless and quick.

This was three years ago. Now the crime has been discovered and Neukrantz has been charged with murder. He has confessed, but police have freed him without bail pending trial because they believed in the purity of his motives.

The discovery was caused by Neukrantz's conscience. Though nobody asked any questions at the time of his mother's death, the young man became melancholy and tried to kill himself. He was rescued, but his progressive melancholy, caused talk and popular instinct soon centered his talk about the death of his mother. When the police heard about it and asked Neukrantz he admitted all.

He told how one June night he sat up with his mother all night, trying to ease her pain, and how, when toward dawn the pains became ever more violent he got desperate, seized the poison and putting it into a glass of water gave it to his mother to drink. She fell asleep relieved and did not awaken.

Bootleg Marriage Like Liquor, Says Judge Ben Lindsey

Los Angeles, Cal., May 24.—“America is bootlegging matrimony as well as liquor,” former Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver, Colo., said today as he arrived from Colorado for a few weeks visit. He was met at the station by Josephine Haldeman-Julius and Aubrey Roselle, of Kansas City, Kas., America's first companionate marriage couple.

“Love, marriage and divorce are handled surreptitiously,” said Lindsey, “as if they were a disgrace, with the result that disgraceful circumstances are often more attendant.”

He then launched into a discussion of the companionate marriage as a remedy. “Companionate marriage is a sane, wholesome and logical solution of a perfectly natural desire of two young people who love each other, to marry,” Judge Lindsey asserted. He added that the term “companionate marriage” is not a “trick name for free love.”

“The estimable ministers and blue-lawyers who are fighting the companionate marriage are by the

And then he held up the small hand of the equally small “Mrs. Roselle” or Miss Haldeman-Julius as she prefers to be designated to exhibit a wedding ring of engraved platinum according to approved style.

The main difference between the companionate marriage and the other kind is the fact that companionately married people are financially independent of each other.

In this case, he emphasized, indicating Josephine and Aubrey, “the fathers are paying the bills.”

Double Wedding
Pasadena Star News—A most impressive double wedding ceremony took place yesterday at high noon at the home of Miss Addie Day, 485 Oakland ave., when Miss Marie D. Hoyle was united in marriage to Lorenzo C. Kendall, both of Pasadena, and Mrs. Edith Hoyle Johnson of Pasadena became the bride of Murray L. Smith, of Salem, O., the latter marriage being the culmination of a romance begun 38 years ago.

The home was beautifully decorated with long white candles, palms, ferns and spring blossoms, and following the singing by Miss Irene Leberg of "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly," the bridal party preceded by little Jean Patterson, the dainty flower girl, entered the living room to the strains of the Schengrin wedding march played by Mrs. Susan Taplin, and took station before the altar where Rev. Herbert Handel and Rev. James R. Patterson read alternately the double wedding service.

The two sisters were beautiful in their bridal dresses. Mrs. Kendall wore a gown of white georgette and lace and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Miss Hoyle wore a gown of white crepe and lace, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Both brides wore orange blossoms in their hair.

There were about 50 guests present, relatives and close personal friends who witnessed the ceremony and partook of the wedding breakfast that followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall left immediately for an automobile trip after which they will return to Pasadena and make their home at 335 Douglas street.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are leaving in a few days for their future home in Salem, O., stopping en route at a number of cities.

Junior Music Club
Miss Betty Moss was chosen president of the Junior Music club at a meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Mina Greenstein, Depot rd.

Her assistant officers are: Vice president, Miss Mary Margaret McKee; secretary, Miss Grace Dyball; treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Snyder. Three new members were added. A social time and lunch were enjoyed.

This was the last regular meeting of the season. The club will hold its annual guest day Saturday afternoon at the Presbyterian church annex.

Circle Elects Officers
Officers were elected at a meeting of Circle 1 of the M. E. church Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. R. Matthews, Jennings ave.

They are: President, Mrs. J. L. Gray; secretary, Mrs. W. T. Shupe; treasurer, Mrs. C. T. Kirkbride. Mrs. Gray had the devotionals. Mrs. Burt Leeper read a paper and Miss Ethel Shears offered a vocal solo. A contest entertained and refreshments were served by Mrs. Matthews and her associate hostess, Mrs. Lee Lanpher.

Club Has Dinner
A group of people who are club associates enjoyed a covered dish dinner Wednesday evening at the Salem County club, west of the city.

After the meal the time was devoted to bridge. High score honors went to Mrs. H. N. Loop and G. W. McKee while the consolation honors were shared by Mrs. A. H. Fuitts and H. B. Thomas.

In one week the members will have a picnic supper.

Mrs. Kelley Hostess
With three tables in play, bridge was the engaging diversion at a meeting of club associates Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Joe Kelley, East Fourth st. The prize winners were Miss Doris Chandler, Mrs. Zora Trotter and Mrs. James Hill. In two weeks the members will meet again.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Odoran left Wednesday for Indianapolis, where they will spend six weeks.

FOUR BILLS VIE FOR VOTE TODAY IN THE CAPITOL

Congress Staggers Under Pressure of Action At Last Minute

Washington, May 24.—With adjournment tentatively set for May 29, the 70th congress was staggering around in circles today as four major bills vied with each other for the legislative right of way.

The tax reduction bill and the Muscle Shoals bill were in conference, due to reach the house and senate during the day as privileged business, while the Boulder dam bill was under debate in both branches and the vetoed McNary-Haugen bill awaited disposition at both ends of the capitol. Administration leaders were hopeful of enacting the tax and Muscle Shoals bill, while side-tracking the farm relief measure, and announced they would be satisfied if the Boulder dam bill was enacted by the house only at this session.

The second deficiency bill, annual harbinger of adjournment, pushed its way into senate debate and leaders hoped to enact it early this afternoon. Its passage was said to insure adjournment next Tuesday. The bill carried a $15,000,000 appropriation to begin Mississippi flood relief work at once, which the senate inserted, so it too must go to conference before final enactment.

The legislative situation, as it affected the major bills, was as follows:

McNary-Haugen bill. The vetoed farm relief measure occupied a privileged place before the senate, subject to consideration at any time. The senate agriculture committee, however, met this morning to determine whether an effort would be made to enact it over the president's veto. There were indications the committee would decide against this effort, although some farm bloc members were demanding it.

Boulder Dam Filibuster. Tax reduction bill. The tax bill, having passed the house and senate in different forms, was in conference, with indications that an agreement would be reached by the conferees during the day. Their conference report must be approved by both house and senate before the bill can go to the White House. The principal disagreement exists over the amount of reduction, the house having authorized a $289,000,000 slash which the senate decreased to $204,000,000.

Boulder dam bill. The bill, proposing the construction of a huge dam in the Colorado river, was nearing enactment by the house but faced a desperate filibuster in the senate. Senator Johnson (R) of California, its chief proponent, announced he would keep the senate in session continuously, day and night, until a final vote is reached. There were indications the house would pass the bill today or tomorrow.

Muscle Shoals bill. The measure, proposing government operation of the $100,000,000 Muscle Shoals plant as a power project and nitrate experimentation plant, was in conference. The house and senate passed it in different forms and the first conference agreement met with such opposition in the senate that a second conference was called. There were indications the conferees would eliminate a provision for the construction of a second dam at Cove Creek, Tenn. in order to insure final enactment of the bill by both branches.

SALEM OFFICIALS

sumption of the plant a, the present time exceeds four times the entire flow of the Mahoning river at Youngstown. The water is taken from the Ohio river, filtered and practically distilled before it is used for boiler purposes.

While the steam party was in the plant, one huge turbine generator was operating at a capacity four times the normal consumption of Salem and immediate vicinity. There are three of these turbine generators in actual service.

Each of these turbines is lubricated by forced feed oil process and the oil reservoir alone hold 1,800 gallons of a highly specialized lubricant.

An interesting feature of the plant is that a tour of the entire property does not show more than 100 employees. This indicates that the labor factor has been reduced to a minimum, the ordinary so-called manual operation being entirely controlled automatically by the demands of the system. Nowhere in the world is controlling machinery more highly specialized than at this plant.

Will Make More Trips
The main building is 155 feet wide and some 200 feet long. Brick, stone and steel are the materials used in construction throughout, and at one end of the plant false structure is used which permits additional units without expensive building operations. The grounds surrounding the property have just recently been graded and grassed, the landscaping being particularly appropriate. It is the intention of the management to create a park-like atmosphere throughout.

The prime things that impress the visitor are economy and service throughout.

It is Mr. Hauser's intention to make these trips to Toronto rather frequent occasions, and it is certain the next party which will possibly go there for inspection from this vicinity, in about two months will be much larger.

Mayor Phil Hiddleston, who made the trip with the party, in a statement to Mr. Hauser said: "I am willing to be advance agent for the next tour and will guarantee a party as large as you can accommodate. I shall use as my advertising feature the splendid courtesy shown to us and the wonderful lunches which you provide here at the plant. I am satisfied the latter will assure you possibly more than you can handle. I was most impressed with the feature of economy which is so manifest throughout all the operations at this wonderful plant. I did not notice a woman employee anywhere but I would not go so far as to say that the economy you have attained has been due to this fact."

Justice is often portrayed as being blind and weighing evidence on a pair of scales. Perhaps the scales have become unbalanced in the case of certain officers of the law.

Cites Individual's Rights

"The woman in the case may not have been above reproach but the constitution of our country, of which Fairfield county is a part, gives each and every person a right to legal protection. The assault was unwarranted and vicious. The courts of our county are not to be ridiculed but they can certainly in some cases, use more judgment when serious offenses are brought to their notice.

"It is not encouraging to officers of the law to bring a criminal to the bar of justice and then have justice hear the case with scales that do not balance.

"There is another angle to this case in that it establishes a precedent. Some of our husbands might get the idea that it would cost but $10 and the cartage to beat up the wife whether she needed it or not.

FARM BILL VETO

dent Coolidge enhanced the possibilities of his being drafted at Kansas City by his message yesterday Hoover's admitted weakness in the farm belt, as shown by his having only a score of delegates between the Ohio-Indiana line and the Rockies, coupled with Al Smith's admitted strength in the populous east, is worrying not a few party leaders who are more concerned about winning in November than they are about the nominee. Consequently, realizing the Republican revolt in the Middle West, they argue that the Kansas City convention must put up some one strong enough to challenge Smith's popularity in the East, and who can still be assured of getting by in the west. That man, they figure, is Calvin Coolidge.

As for the Lowden and Dawes candidacies, they argue that the party must go to the country in November on the record of the Coolidge administration. The platform, therefore, must endorse Coolidge policies, many of which both Lowden and Dawes have opposed.

The nominee at Kansas City, they contend, cannot be put in the position of straddling, nor of being anti-Coolidge administration.

Such, at any rate, is the talk of Washington today.

One Lone Woman Ready To Battle Wall Street

Beauty Millionaire Starts War by Suddenly Changing Her Mind

By SHIRLEY KIRKE
International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent

ONE lone woman is preparing to defy Wall Street and fight it out to the last against the "masters of millions" who are seeking revenge because she indulged in what always has been acknowledged to be a woman's privilege—to change her mind.

The woman in question is Helena Rubinstein, beauty specialist, one of the pioneers in the business of beautification, and one of the most successful, too—inasmuch as she is among the heaviest income taxpayers in the United States.

For some time Wall Street has been regarding with amazement the growth of beauty parlors. Miss Rubinstein's enterprises, which include branches in London, Paris, Amsterdam, Chicago, New York and San Francisco, appeared especially tempting.

So much so, in fact, that a combination of bankers got together and decided to tender her a rather large sum for her business.

After having devoted 27 years to her profession, the lady was in a receptive mood and willing to sell out. The papers were drawn up and handed to her as she boarded a liner to Paris. All that was required was her signature, which she expected to inscribe after examining the documents at her leisure at sea.

But then Miss Rubinstein, half way across the Atlantic, underwent a change of heart. She was afraid that the Wall Streeters would go in for mass production. She had become successful during those 27 years by making her name stand for a certain quality of products, and she thought it was only ethical that this name should not be used by anyone except herself.

HELENA RUBINSTEIN
(International Illustrated News)

'Twas all off. So she called her lawyers that the deal was off.

Wall Street was greatly miffed at her decision. And now, eager to kill two birds with one stone—to cash in on the huge profits of the beauty business and to teach Miss Rubinstein a lesson—the combine has just finished buying out a number of other beautification systems.

And the battle is on! It's one lone woman against powerful Wall Street. Which will win?

BIG CATHEDRAL ATOP NOB HILL COST $4,000,000

San Francisco Edifice
To Be Given Name of Grace Cathedral

San Francisco, May 24 — Atop fashionable Nob Hill in San Francisco, workmen are laboring with stone and steel, concrete and plaster to erect an edifice that is destined to be one of the architectural splendors of the modern age.

Two years ago in a drizzling rain, ground for the projected structure was broken to the accompaniment of a solemn prayer.

It is estimated that in three and a half years the great building will stand completed. San Francisco then will see its dream realized in a gigantic church of medieval design, a house of worship, its towers shooting upward to the heavens with the imposing majesty characterizing the twelfth century Gothic cathedrals, which still remain the architectural marvels of Europe.

To Cost $3,600,000
The projected edifice, which is to be called Grace Cathedral, entails an expenditure of $3,600,000. Its spires will rise to a height of 230 feet above street level and its nave will be 300 feet long from rose window to chancel window.

The spacious interior will have a seating accommodations for 3,200 persons. Reared on one of San Francisco's famously high hills, the structure will stand out prominently against the background of the city's irregular skyline. Ships passing through the Golden Gate from all portions of the world will be within sight of the towers and spires of the cathedral.

Community Place
Grace Cathedral will be more than a church, according to the plans of its builders. It will be a community gathering place, where all sects, creeds and colors will be welcome. It is being erected on an historic site. On the plot of ground where the workmen are now toiling, there once stood the magnificent mansion of William H. Crocker, a noted figure in San Francisco's early life. That was in San Francisco's heyday, when the city by the Golden Gate was beginning to develop its reputation as one of the artistic, literary and social centers of America. The Crocker home perished in the earthquake and fire of 1906 and the ground upon which it stood was donated to Grace Cathedral.

The sale is a part of the court proceedings in the case of the Connecticut Mills company, against the McGraw Tire & Rubber company.

The East Palestine plant has been inactive for a number of years, and already a considerable portion of the chatties have been disposed of. The suit against the United States district court, northern district of Ohio. The receiver will offer the plant and acreage for sale at East Palestine, and at the same time other personal property of the company will be offered for sale at 1259 Union Trust building, Cleveland.

Four Seek Citizenship
Four declarations of intent to become citizens of the United States have just been filed with Clerk of Courts Frank Balamonte, these being the first to be made a matter of record for several weeks. They are: Rose Brindley, 22, a native of Staffordshire, England, now employed as a glider and residing at 943 McKinnon ave., East Liverpool. She arrived at New York June 30, 1914.

Theodore Dawes, 61, a native of London, England, and employed as an electrician, and residing at 313 East High st., Lisbon. He arrived at New York June 14, 1926.
Salvatore Rahane, 19, employed as a tailor, a native of Italy and residing at 125 West Second st., East Liverpool. He arrived at New York April 7, 1925.
Michela D'Antonio, 36, a laborer, a native of Italy and residing at 315 East Grant st., East Palestine. His entrance at New York is dated Nov. 14, 1921.

Action Is Dismissed
On motion of the plaintiff in the case of the Potters Savings & Loan company of East Liverpool against R. Delmar Mason and others, the action has been dismissed without further record, and the costs paid. This was an action in foreclosure.

A similar action filed by the Peoples Savings & Loan company against Edward H. Morrow and others has been dismissed by the plaintiff without prejudice, without further record and the costs paid.

Partition Is Sought
Partition of lot 1007 in B. C. Simms' addition, East Liverpool is sought, in a petition filed in common pleas court by Fannie Howell against John Howell. The Potters Savings & Loan Co., is also made a party defendant and is asked to set up any lien if any exists.

Writ Is Ordered
The court has ordered a writ of partition in the case of Isadore Schnauffer against Lillie Meek and others which action has been pending in common pleas since June 27, 1927. The commissioners appointed in this case are Frank Cress, Perry Cress and Charles Adams.

Wives Given Decrees
On the ground of wilful absence for over a period of three years, a decree of divorce has been granted Verda Johnson against her husband Rolfe L. Johnson. The defendant in this case has been ordered by the court to pay his former wife $20 per month for the support of minor children, and his dower and all other rights in property of the plaintiff has been barred by the court.

Gross neglect of duty was charged in the divorce petition filed by Margaret Willis against her husband Lloyd Willis, and Judge W. F. Lones has granted a decree following the trial of this case. The custody of minors has been awarded the plaintiff.

Claims Rent Due
George M. Aten through his counsel P. V. Mackall has filed an action in common pleas against Chas. McInoch, claiming there is owing the plaintiff $265 for rent. Interest is sought from July 15, 1925. In this case the Allison-Harris construction Co., has been made garnishee and as the defendant resides at Smith Ferry service by publication will follow.

May File Answer
Leave to the defendant to file his answer at once has been granted by the court in the case of Schaefer, Black Co., of Alliance, against Dean Groner. The action reached common pleas on appeal from a lower court at Salem, and has been pending on the appearance docket since Dec. 24, 1925.

Ohio State Co-eds Turn Down Chance In the Three-a-Day
Columbus, O., May 24.—While the stage beckons with a "three-a-day," two offer before the bright lights, two co-ed winners of a recent beauty contest at Ohio State university have tilted their pretty noses on the opportunity and are continuing the daily drudgery of classes at the university.

With due regard for the hundreds of girls who daily storm the booking offices along Broadway, Misses Margaret O'Shaughnessy and Mary Katherine Greene, Ohio State's most beautiful co-eds, have laid aside for the time being at least, the offer of a vaudeville circuit which was to have been the prize to the winners of the beauty contest.

Well aware of the possibility of seeing their names burning in bright lights in front of vaudeville theaters throughout the country, the two beauties have declared themselves to be content to just keep on the enrollment books of the university professors. The two co-eds won the contest, conducted by the Ohio State Lantern, from the university daily newspaper, from a field of 24 contestants.

However, according to advices from the local Keith-Albee vaudeville circuit office, the girls have signified their intentions of waiting until the university closes for the summer recess before attempting anything in the theatrical line, if at all.

Austrian Senator Hits Vice Conditions

Vienna, May 24.—The Index of Prohibited Books, the State Commission on Public Morals, the Jail for Prodigals and Immorals, a severe censorship and rigid press laws should be reintroduced in Austria as a part of a crusade against vice and especially against nakedness on the stage and in the press according to a bill introduced in the Austrian Bundestag (corresponding to the American senate) by the woman senator, Dr. Berta Pichl, an ardent Christian Socialist.

Frau Dr. Pichl thinks that Vienna has become another Sodom. "Immorality is rampant improper pictures and books are threatening the morals of youth," she said, "audacity shows and malefactors are even advertising these nudities on posters and placards," said Frau Pichl in an interview given to the press.

REALTORS MEET AT OHIO STATE

Real Estate Institute
Will Open On Campus
Friday Morning

Columbus, May 24.—Realtors from all parts of Ohio are expected here Friday and Saturday for a real estate institute sponsored by the department of commerce extension, Ohio State university, in co-operation with Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards. Four sessions are booked for Friday and one for Saturday.

Dr. T. L. Kibler, director of commerce extension, will preside at the opening meeting Friday morning. Donald C. Power, of the business organization faculty, will speak on "Contracts" and Dr. Felix Held, secretary of the college of commerce and administration, on "Business Correspondence."

Ray Hefford, secretary of the association, is chairman of the luncheon meeting. The speaker is Dr. Spurgeon Bell, director of the bureau of business research. His topic is "Research With Application to the Building Trades in Ohio."

Talks at the Friday afternoon meeting, with Dr. Held in charge, will be as follows: "Advertising," L. H. Grinstead, assistant director of marketing research; "Population Movements as They Affect Property Values," Prof. A. B. Wolfe; and "The Tax Problem in Ohio," Prof. H. F. Waldrat.

At a dinner meeting Friday evening, Dr. H. A. Toops, professor of psychology, will discuss "Motives in Home Buying." Acting Dean Walter C. Weidner will preside. Four talks are scheduled for Saturday morning. The committee in charge of the institute is composed of Dr. Kibler, Hefford and Donald G. Boyd, education director of the association. The meetings will be held in the commerce auditorium on the campus, while the luncheon and dinner sessions will be in the Faculty club.

Switzerland Leads European Nations Using Electricity

Washington, May 24.—Switzerland, one of the tiny nations of Europe, is the leading continental country in the utilization of electric power.

Reports from representatives of the commerce and state departments show rapid progress, especially in the development of hydro-electric facilities in recent years.

Few countries of the world are so well endowed with natural resources which spells emancipation from foreign fuel supplies as is Switzerland.

Tremendous water power resources are abundant in this nation nestled high in the Alps.

Switzerland has the highest per capita consumption of electrical energy of any country in the world, amounting to about 900 kilowatt hours annually. Almost every locality is supplied with electricity, and the electric network covers a large portion of the total area, approximately 95 per cent of all Swiss villages being supplied with electrical current.

hens last Thursday night. Rehearsal of Community singing was held in the Lutheran church Wednesday evening.

Rev. H. L. Greenwalt of Uniondale Ind., delivered an address in the Lutheran church Sunday morning and the baccalaureate address in the school auditorium on Sunday evening.

Ray Dike got one of the small school houses moved onto his lot last Friday all ready to set onto the foundation.

The different districts of the sewing and nutrition projects displayed their wares to a full house at the regular Farm bureau meeting last Monday night and made a lot with the audience, especially the Swiss bellringers.

Richard and Junior Rhodes of Geoson spent over the week end with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Rhodes.

County Supt. and Mrs. Jerome Hull, daughter Jean and son Woodhull, were dinner guests of Prof. and Mrs. Dreiblebs Sunday.

J. J. Hites moved into the 1 N. Weikart house last Friday.

The ball game between Greenford and the Friedman Giants, a colored team from Youngstown, Sunday was won by Greenford 19 to 3.

Indian Tribes Take To 'War Path' For Old Treaty Rights

Admiral, Okla., May 21.—Two tribes of Indians in Oklahoma, are on the "war path" to protect their tribal treaty rights. Several hundred members of the Chickasaw and Choctaw tribes organized as a body here recently to look after their interests and to delve into pending litigation concerning their coal and asphalt properties. The Indians voted almost unanimously to attempt a test of the effectiveness of the Dawes commission treaty, by carrying the matter before the United States supreme court.

The Redskins believe their interests are being tossed upon a political sea and that the long drawn out fight over technicalities of ownership and the like are cutting deeply into the value of their estates. They are eager to sell to the United States government their tracts of coal and asphalt lands for twelve million dollars. This, they think, would have been accomplished more than two years ago, had their treaty been in full force.

LEETONIA

One of the most brilliant social events of the school year, the annual Junior-Senior banquet, was held on Monday evening in the Odd Fellows hall. At 6:30 a three-course dinner was served, covers being placed for 62.

The guest list included the members of the Senior class, the Junior class, the High school faculty, Mrs. E. P. Stonebraker, the members of the board of education and their wives.

The tables were beautifully decorated with roses in the class colors and white placed in vases and Christmas tree lights. Each bulb being covered with a doll attired in old-fashioned dress in red and white. The dolls were the favors. The waitresses, girls of the Sophomore class, gowned in old-fashioned attire.

Edward Greenmeyer, president of the Junior class was toastmaster. Talks were given by Carl Stambaugh, president of the Senior class; Malvern Russell, of the Senior class; Bernada Morris and Ida Mae Lannier of the Junior class. Ray E. Whinnery, principal of the High school and M. B. Lodge, president of the board of education. Following the dinner and speeches, the company adjourned to the dance hall, adjoining the banquet hall, where the remainder of the evening was enjoyed in dancing. The hall was decorated in red roses, dogwood blossoms and a large basket of lilacs.

The Kiwanis club heard James W. Reinhardt of Youngstown, where he is connected with the Youngstown Y. M. C. A., as secretary of vocational guidance, at the meeting Tuesday evening in the Methodist Parish house, where the Busy Bee society served the dinner. The Kiwanis club sent invitations to all members of the eighth grade pupils of both the public and St. Patrick's Parish school to be present and hear the address by Mr. Reinhardt, which was given in the main auditorium of the church. The subject of the address was "Square Deals in Round Holes."

Miss Ruby Wender pleased with a group of songs, singing, "Swaying Willow," "Mother O' Mine," and "Kiss Me Again." She was accompanied on the piano by Orlo C. Schumpe.

The Leetonia Kiwanis club has accepted an invitation from the Canfield Community club to attend a meeting and dinner of the club Friday evening. The Leetonia organization to put on the entertainment.

A very enjoyable affair was held on Tuesday evening by the Past Noble Grands of the Rebekah lodge as a surprise for two of their members, the Misses Emma Degnan, and Myrtle Wilhelm, who will be brides of the near future. Miss Degnan will become the bride of Eugene Silver and Miss Wilhelm will be married to Eldon Holt. The affair was a covered dish dinner and miscellaneous shower. The table was decorated in bouquets of purple frises and lilacs with favors in the shape of roses filled with salted nuts, and at each end of the long table around which 20 were seated, a doll was placed, dressed as a bride. A small umbrella hung from the chandelier and heaped beneath were gifts for the prospective brides. The president of the organization, Mrs. T. L. McNulty, made the presentation speech. The gifts being of a large variety each one of the honorees received.

Mrs. R. J. Horner of Orlando, Fla., is visiting the home of her cousin, Mrs. S. V. Shive for a few weeks. On Tuesday Mrs. Shive and Mrs. Horner were in Salem to spend the day with another cousin, Mrs. M. J. Buehl.

Mrs. Michael Briggs, Mrs. Roy Waddell, Mrs. William Atkinson and children, Paul and Carol and Illah Rae Briggs were Salem visitors on Tuesday.

Mrs. Harry Eans was a Youngstown caller. Her Side Sewing club will be entertained by Mrs. Fred Githner on Friday evening at her home on Somer st.

The Dorcas society of St. John's Lutheran church was entertained by Mrs. E. P. Simpson at her home on Columbia st., Tuesday evening. The evening was spent in needle work. At a late hour refreshments were served.

LINDBERGH SEES AMERICA LEADING IN AIR TRAFFIC

Will Push Development of Passenger Carrying In His Capacity As Chairman For Transcontinental Air-Rail Line

New York, May 24—"I would like to see the United States take the lead in all branches of aviation—including passenger carrying."

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, talking the famous young flyer who has accepted the position of chairman of the technical committee of the newly organized Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc.

This $5,000,000 corporation will within a few months begin operating a railroad-and-airplane passenger service from New York to California, cutting down travel time between these points to 48 hours.

"The possibilities for development of passenger carrying by air are great in this country," said Lindbergh, "I'm going to assist the new organization in every way possible."

Not only Lindbergh, but other prominent leaders in aviation, see tremendous possibilities in the rail-plane method of travel, viewing it as a big, practical step toward inducing the general public to see airplanes. Significance is attached, too, to the fact that two big railroads—the Pennsylvania and the Aachison, Topeka & Santa Fe—two well-known airplane companies are behind the project.

Far Behind Europe

Investigation today revealed that while it is probably true that the United States leads the world in commercial aviation this country in the one department of passenger carrying is far behind Europe. There are a number of reasons for this, according to "The Index," a publication issued by the New York Trust company.

Aviation is not subsidized in this country as in Europe, the American railroad service being an important point, such as Chicago and New York, is so efficient that the airplane could not save any large amount of time except by night-flying, for which it is not yet completely adapted; and on the American continent a trans-continental train is not halted by the exigencies of traffic barriers and customs duties.

In Europe, however, transportation by airplane is now a regular system of travel, operating according to time tables and in all kinds of weather. Fares have been reduced to a point where they are now about equal to that of a first class railroad. The standard of safety is high.

Germany appears to be carrying on the biggest air transportation business abroad. Figures obtained from the Daniel Guggenheim fund for the promotion of aeronautics show the following comparative air traffic volume in Europe for 1926:

Volume In Heavy

Country	Passenger Freight
Germany	56,286 1,624 tons
Great Britain	29,367 679 tons
France	18,890 377 tons
Holland	6,275 158 tons
Italy	3,991 46 tons

Each of these countries showed a very considerable increase in 1927, although final figures are not available. In Italy the number of passengers nearly tripled and in Holland the number doubled.

Lindbergh's new company, its backers believe, will start the United States off on the right track toward the development of the passenger carrying business. The method of travel in America may be revolutionized, some day.

The United States as yet does very little passenger carrying by airplane, but no country in Europe has achieved as efficient and as extensive a system of mail transportation as exists in this country. The use of the airplane for mail and freight carrying has advanced to such an extent that there are more commercial civil airplanes in this country than any other.

Figures published by "The Index" show that the total number of commercial and civil airplanes in Germany, France, England and Italy is 1,877 for the four countries combined. In the United States the total number of commercial and civil airplanes is 3,230. There are 78 airplane factories in the four countries mentioned. In the United States there are 103.

New York, May 24—The first feeder line to the proposed New York-Los Angeles rail-and-plane route will be a Columbus-Milwaukee service, C. M. Keys, president of the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., said today. This is the company that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has become identified with as chairman of the technical committee.

MINERS ELECT NEW OFFICIALS

Bellaire Group Votes To Depose Union Heads And Start Work

Bellaire, May 24—Three groups of miners were in the eastern Ohio fields today following the action of 43 union locals which late yesterday voted to depose sub-district officers and elected a separate group of officials. The three groups are miners who remained at their employment at the cessation of the $7.50 per day of the Jacksonville wage agreement, union miners who have remained with the Ohio district of the United Mine workers, and the "save the union" group which yesterday voted to depose the officers of the fifth sub-district.

Officers of the new group are: Robert Matusek, Bellaire, president; R. U. Wallace, Big Run, vice president; and Andrew Plecharty, Dillonvale, secretary.

Officers of the union miners who have remained loyal to the United Mine Workers organization are:

800 Athletes Will Compete In State High School Track Meet

EXPECT ALLEN, COLUMBUS TEAM TO BREAK MARKS

More Than 500 Boys In Class A Events In Ohio Stadium Friday and Saturday; Eyes On Salem High's Great Team

Columbus, O., May 24.—Nearly 800 athletes are expected to flock to Ohio stadium here Friday and Saturday to participate in the annual track and field meet championships of Ohio high schools.

Entries in the annual gathering will include the winning and runner-up high school teams of the eight district meets held in the past two weeks and in individual athletes who placed in any of the three first positions of any of the events in the district meets.

Competitions will take place in three divisions, Class A, B and C high schools of the state. The largest number of track and field men are entered in Class A division, composed of first class schools with attendance of more than 500.

At least two existing records are expected by meet officials to fall. A new meet mark is predicted to be set by Lowell Allen of Salem High school in the pole vault event. Allen, while assisting Salem to annex the Northeastern district title last Saturday, topped the world's high school record with a vault of 13 feet, 1 1/2 inches. The former record was 12 feet 10 1/2 inches. His teammate, Keith Roessler who broke the Ohio record in the same event last Saturday, will be entered with Allen.

Expect Mile Relay Record

After setting a new mark in the mile relay at the central district meet at Delaware recently, the Columbus Central team is slated to pace a new meet record at the gathering this week-end. The Columbus squad ran the mile in a time of 3 minutes, 27.2 seconds, a few seconds better than the present high school meet record.

Winner and runner-up teams of Class A and B high schools in the district meets which will battle for the state championship include: Central district: Class A, Columbus Central and Columbus East; Class B, Liberty Union and Sugar Grove.

Southwestern district: Class A, Cincinnati Withrow and Dayton Roosevelt; Class B, Hartwell and Fairmont.

Eastern district: Class A, Uhrichsville and Steubenville; Class B, Millersburg and Barnesville.

Southeastern district: Class A, Trenton and Portsmouth; Class B, Frankfort and Centuria.

Northwestern district (southern section): Class A, Mansfield and Lima Central; Class B, Lykens and Carey.

Baseball Tourney Also On

Northwestern district (northern section): Class A, Toledo Scott and Toledo Waite; Class B, Port Clinton and Bryan.

Northeastern district (southern section): Class A, Salem and Canton McKinley; Class B, Cortland and East Palestine.

Northeastern district (northern section): Class A, Lakewood and Cleveland East Tech; Class B, Berea and Rocky River.

Preliminaries in the state high school baseball tournament to be held in Columbus Friday were announced by officials of the Ohio High School Athletic association today. Semi-finals will be played Saturday morning and the finals Saturday afternoon.

The preliminary schedule of the state high school team follows: Class B—Bexley vs. Doystown; Newcomerstown vs. Kunkle; Oxford McGuffey vs. Clyde; McDermott vs. Centerville.

Class A—Hamilton vs. Canton McKinley; Shadyside vs. Lima Central; Athens vs. Cleveland Heights; Columbus Aquinas vs. winner of the northwest district.

The Pirates are beginning to wonder when Team Is Going To Start

New York, May 24.—Pittsburgh fans are beginning to wonder when, if ever, the champion Pirates are going to get started.

Yesterday the Reds nosed them out in the tenth, 4 to 3, Luque out-pitching Hill. Cincinnati won four out of five in the series and now leads the Cubs, who were idle yesterday, by a full game.

The Giants have won five out of six from Brooklyn this season. Buzz McWeeny stopped the New Yorkers, 4 to 3, in the first game of yesterday's double bill. But Benton held the Dodgers to four hits in the nightcap and won by a 4 to 0 count. Master Melvin Ott got his fifth homer.

"Death Valley" Todd, first sacker of the Boston Red Sox, clouted three home runs in the New York series. His mates couldn't help him in the final game, however, and the Sox suffered a 2 to 1 defeat at the hands of Henry Johnson.

The Athletics beat Washington, 4 to 2, with the aid of five hits by Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker. Cobb now has 3,001 singles during his Big League career.

The White Sox nosed out Cleveland in the tenth, 4 to 3, after the Indians had pulled the first triple play of the season on them in the ninth. With the bases full Clancy tied to Jamieson, who threw Kamm out at the plate. Schaik then was caught off second.

The Browns ended their losing streak of nine games by trouncing Detroit, 8 to 3. The Tigers dropped below Chicago into seventh place. Other teams were idle.

CLEVELAND TO RULE PLAYERS WITH KINDNESS

Billy Evans Sees That They Get Square Deal And Even More

New York, May 24.—"Never pamper a ball player," is the watch word of the spare the rod and spoil the child school of baseball management. Indeed this theory is almost universally practiced and applied, many clubs hiring executives who will bear down on the budget and out-game the ball player in any discussion about matters of money.

It is all the more surprising, then, to learn that the Cleveland Indians have a general manager on their pay roll, whose particular service is to see that the player gets what he wants and in many cases, more than he expects. Bill Evans, with the connivance of the Bradleys, the Van Sweringens and other indifferent souls connected with the ownership of the Indians, has instituted a new system in the treatment of employees. They evidently are determined to kill or cure those ball players with kindness.

Bigger Salaries

The Indians finished far down in the second division under the old ownership last year and plenty of critical money was lost on the venture. Hardly a man on the club was deserving of the same money this year, judged solely upon his 1927 performances.

Did these kind, thoughtful owners strain a point and give them as much money? The answer is an emphatic no; they gave them more. Every man in the outfit got an advance in salary—no questions asked and none answered. The owners worked on the theory that a happy ball club can't be a bad one and they went further in this direction by providing the best of travel and hotel accommodations, increasing the limit of the dining allowance and in other ways getting over the idea to the player that they were a couple of good fellows and he was another.

For the early stages of the race at least, the idea of a happy club being a good one has worked out nicely. The Indians weren't given a tiny tumble in the advance calculations on the American League race, for at that time they really had nothing but a pitching staff that used to be so good.

A Lot of Fight

They have nothing now, except that Uhle, Shaute and a few others are pitching as they did in 1927 and the team has a lot of fight. This combination carried the Indians into the first division and has kept them there for the first five weeks of the race. Even if they do nothing more for the remainder of the campaign, it seems to me that this accomplishment automatically makes the 1928 season a success for a club like the Indians.

They don't belong, everybody says, but the trouble with that is to make the Indians realize it. They are feeling so good about everything that they want to go out there everyday and beat somebody. I am not suggesting that the Indians will be the sensation of the season. But neither am I denying the fact that, only with men who feel as the Indians do, are human miracles achieved.

Rajah Hornsby Heads Braves; Jack Is Scout

Boston May 24.—Rogers Hornsby was at the helm of the Boston Braves today.

The naming of the Rajah to succeed Slattery, who suddenly resigned, had the whole baseball world by the ears.

At the same time it was pretty definite that "Slats" will continue with the tribe of chief scouts.

Trades and transfers were expected to follow in the wake of the appointment of Hornsby as player manager.

Under the guiding hand of one of baseball's most dynamic and aggressive personalities, the local tribe was understood to be ready for a general shaking up.

Any trades or transfers, however, were expected to be in the general line of strengthening the team.

Arthur Devlin, former third base star, has been Slattery's assistant. Hornsby, it was assumed, would name his own assistant. That would be transfer No. 1.

Slattery's salary or contract will not be disturbed neither will Hornsby's $40,000 a year salary be increased.

Judge Emil E. Fuchs, in making the announcement, said the appointment of the new manager was for the best interests in making "a fighting and winning team."

Games Will Be Played On Three Nights Each Week of Schedule

Six teams have been entered in the city "mush" ball circuit, which had its official opening this week. Games will be played three times a week, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The teams entered in the league are Mullins, Masons, Methodists, Salem China, City Hall, and Federals.

Games played previous to this week will not be included in the standings, as not all teams had been fully organized. The Mullins and Masons will play tonight at Centennial park.

The full schedule for the first half follows: May 25—Salem China vs. City Hall; May 29—Federals vs. Mullins; May 31—Methodists vs. Salem China.

June 1—Masons vs. City Hall; June 5—Federals vs. Masons; June 7—Methodists vs. City Hall; June 8—Mullins vs. China; June 12—Federals vs. China Co.; June 14—Methodists vs. Masons; June 15—Mullins vs. City Hall; June 19—Federals vs. City Hall; June 21—Methodists vs. Mullins; June 23—Masons vs. China Co.

Graham had difficulty in making the weight last night. Schwartz, weighing 111 1/2, gave away nearly seven pounds. He was badly battered, losing 11 rounds.

Graham floored the corporal for a count of nine in the 14th round and Izzy could hardly keep his feet at the end.

Fighting for the right to meet Joe Dundee in a welterweight title go, Sergeant Sammy Baker came from behind to outpoint Neck Testo, of Troy, N. Y. After being floored twice in the third round, Baker came on to take six of the 10 rounds.

BUSHY GRAHAM HEADS BANTAMS

New York, May 24.—The bantamweight division today has a new and worthy champion in Bushy Graham, scrappy battler of Utica, N. Y. He easily won the decision over Corporal Izzy Schwartz, flyweight champion in New York state, in a 15 round bout in Brooklyn last night.

"THE BIG CITY"
A glimpse into the "invisible city" within New York, that strange manifestation of social life known as "the underworld" is afforded in a graphic and enthralling play in Lon Chaney's latest contribution to the screen, "The Big City." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's thrilling mystery romance of night life, now playing at the State.

Chaney again gives a masterful demonstration of his many-sided versatility; he has given the screen "Mr. Wu" and "Quasimodo," as well as many other strange characters; in his new vehicle he invades the present, and plays a New York gangster leader of modern times, in a compelling characterization.

The story, essentially a love story, teems with thrills and abounds in mystery. Chaney and his gang, in conflict with a rival gang, a sensational holdup of a popular night club battles with the police and duels of wits with the detectives; these are all breathlessly exciting backgrounds for a charming love idyll of a boy and a girl—parts played by pretty Marceline Day, who was never more charming than as the little shopgirl in the play, and James Murray, King Vidor's "discovery," who leaped to fame in "The Crowd."

"THE WAGON SHOW"
A real story of the circus enacted by one who spent many years as a featured performer, describes "The Wagon Show" the latest Ken Maynard western feature produced by Charles R. Rogers for First National which is at the Grand.

"The Wagon Show" is different from the ordinary formula of western pictures. It is a human authentic story of a small early day circus traveling through Montana and Wyoming. This was the day of horse drawn wagon shows and the continuous fight of man with the elements.

Ken Maynard, who spent 15 years as a star stunt rider with Barnum and Bailey, Ringling Bros. and other big tent show outfits, personally supervised the technical end of the picture as well as performing some of the most daring feats of horsemanship ever filmed.

"The Wagon Show" was written especially for Maynard and was personally directed by Harry J. Brown, who supervised all of Ken's previous pictures.

The supporting cast includes Marjorie Douglas, who has the leading feminine role, Maurice Costello, Paul Weigel, George Davis and Tarzan, the wonder horse. It is a First National feature.

Porch Parties for Children

Summer porch parties for children are delightful functions and it is so easy to entertain them in the open. Where there are two or more children in the family many mothers are giving one general party and requesting that "no presents" be brought by the children. This present business has been a subject of much unfavorable comment among mothers and a reform will be welcome.

Another point is the dropping in of mothers after the children, but early enough to be in on the refreshments. This is not a grown-up function and it is troublesome to have them come in at that time. In setting the party hours many manage to have the refreshments early and have them all cleared away before the outsiders come.

If a table is prepared in the hall a maid can take the wraps and thus save opening a room upstairs for the purpose. The festivities begin with group games. Be sure that the groups are not too large so that the children get restless if the game goes too slowly. There are several versions of the ring toss games, bean bag toss, dart throwing at a target, tape races, cutting the tape in half which should be a half inch wide, with blunt scissors, the tape being fastened securely at one end and the racers start at a given signal. Cutting off the tape disqualifies a player for the race as there are prizes.

If the grounds are large a treasure hunt is jolly for the older children. Each child is given the first paper and thereafter finds written directions at each step and eventually the treasure. Grace hoops and croquet also interest children and the rules should be posted plainly so that there will be no dispute arise among the players to spoil the fun, this happens frequently so it is best to be safe.

The refreshments should be simple but it is always easier to eat children than to have them tray served and having to hold the plates in their hands. They are not deft and are very apt to spill things. A long kindergarten table can be borrowed or rented for the smaller children and the ordinary table will be all right for the larger guests.

Cocoa with sandwiches may be followed with ice cream and cake. The sandwiches may be made of minced chicken with a very small amount of mayonnaise. Use just enough to moisten so that the mixture can be spread. Minced ham with a little mustard sauce to moisten the mince, and cream cheese with orange marmalade makes a good selection. Vanilla and chocolate are the general favorites in the ice cream. The cakes should be lady fingers, macaroons, small sponge cakes, or sliced white fruit cake.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris May 24.—Polka-dots are putting chic Parisiennes into print this spring. They appear on all the smart silks, cottons and woolsens.

There are materials studded all over with every size of polka-dot and in every shade and color. It doesn't seem to matter what the circumference of the dot is, so long as this smart little circle is visible. Crepes, chiffons, jerseys and tulle are printed in every size from the sparkling half-dollar type to the tiniest of pin-points. One very smart fabric is a polka-dotted silk covered with spots of different sizes giving the effect of confetti scattered over all.

edly the favorite polka-dot combination today as it was a number of years ago, although Worth favors brown and white in the softest of velvours. Poulard is not used but there is a new polka-dotted taffeta that is all the rage. It is much thinner and more supple than the usual variety, little heavier than a thick crepe georgette taffetas are printed in every size.

Skin Eruptions

successfully treated from within

SKILLED physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system.

This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself and friends to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build rich, red blood—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

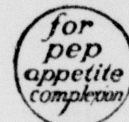

In building rich, red blood cells, S.S.S. improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy."—Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

AT THE NORTH POLE WITH NOBILE

"The last few miles are the hardest" in getting to the North Pole, and General Umberto Nobile finds the elements against him in his dash to the top of the world. The giant dirigible Italia, battered by gales, uses up most of its gas supply, and is forced to swing around and return to Spitzbergen for more fuel. After which, with a little assistance from the elements, the famous Italian explorer and his party will set out again for their two months' stay in the land never before inhabited by humans.

USE RIVER NOW FOR DUCKINGS

Ohio State Students Find Way To Circumvent Prexy's Orders

Columbus, May 24. — President George W. Rightmire, of Ohio State university has put a heavily-booted foot down upon any form of student ducking, whether it be of the traditional freshmen variety or the informal farewell parties for the graduating seniors.

A complete reversal of the conditions in regard to student hazing has just begun to take form at the university last week and duckings in Mirror lake were becoming daily occurrences when President Rightmire, after remaining silent on the question for more than a year, again came forward and threatened expulsion from the university to violators of the rule in the future.

Freshmen for whom the rule was instituted last year, however, were not victims of the scornful upperclassmen in the most recent attempt at the revival of the tradition. In fact, the first-year members of the university were components of conspiracies to toss unwilling members of the senior class into the mucky waters on the campus lake.

Following the lead of one of the campus fraternities, with which the custom of giving graduating members of its own group a "wet" farewell, other organizations threatened to establish the term of "Senior Hell Week" on the campus by the interest taken in the spring activity, before the arrival of Buckeye prexy on the scene.

The president's action, however, is believed to have made the situation much more complicated for the seniors. While the new rule states that no duckings are permitted in the lake, it does not designate that singular tossings are prohibited in the roily waters of the Olentangy river which courses through the western side of the campus. Clad only in undergarments, the victims are made to walk back to the fraternity houses following the ducking. The change of the scene for the baptism, adds nearly a mile to the jaunt home.

Broomstick Calves From Stilted Heels Modern Girl's Doom

Los Angeles, Cal., May 24. — The opinion from a noted doctor now is that if milady continues to prouette on "stilt" heels, her calves will eventually dwindle to the general proportions and design of a broom handle.

And close in the wake of this forecast, comes the announcement from the University of California at Los Angeles, that never before in the history of the institution have girls taken such strides—minus "stilt" heels—to avert such an esthetic catastrophe.

These strides, which are aimed to shape one's nether extremities into things of beauty are being taken by more than 1,300 university girls on the hockey rink, the tennis court and the archery field.

Moreover, opines Miss Hazel Cumberly, of the physical education department of the university, these modern emulators of Atlanta, will be on a more "firm footing" to compete with man in other ways.

"Participation in athletics," she said, "is teaching women the principals of fair play, give and take as well as self-control and self-discipline."

President Domergue Enjoys Long Walks

Paris, May 24.—Gaston Domergue, France's fat, pink-and-white faced president is a fine walker. In fact, it is about the only kind of exercise in which he indulges during his off-time. Every morning he walks around the Champs Elysees like any other stroller and free citizens, except that a secret service man always follows close behind him, a thing which greatly annoys the president. Often he goes as far as the Porte Maillot, a good two miles, and back to the French White House in the faubourg St. Honore.

Walking is also, the president's favorite pastime when he is at the summer White House, Rambouillet. Every morning he rises at seven and roams through the woods for at least two hours.

"Gastonnet," as his old friends call him, does not appear to have a preference for any sport, but since he became head of the state he has shown a great interest in outdoor games. Last year he attended the final of the French Association Football cup and took great enjoyment in the game. He has signified his intention of attending the final of this season's competition which will take place at the Colombes Stadium.

Business Prefers Flappers; 'Sedate Efficiency' Unwanted

Chicago, May 24. — The average Mr. Business Man when he sets out to hire a stenographer, filing clerk or woman switchboard operator, wants "em" young and good-looking.

"No one over 25 need apply." That short sentence has created a panic among women of middle age in Chicago who must earn their own living.

Mrs. Minnie M. Chapman, general superintendent of the Women's Church Federation Protectorate, addressing a large group of women at a recent session here, made the charge that the city's shrewdest business men openly prefer the irresponsibility of youth to the sedate efficiency of middle age in hiring women employees.

Charge is Sustained. A canvass of leading employment agencies and interviews with job-hunters corroborated Mrs. Chapman's charge. At a large agency conducted here by one of the largest makers of typewriters, the woman in charge, middle-aged, said that all the women she sent out for prospective positions those "under 25" were the ones most readily accepted.

Coming in contact with thousands of women, old, middle-aged and young, the head of the employment bureau has had an excellent opportunity to judge the needs of the modern business men and the women who apply for positions.

"Nine times out of ten, I will send some silly little flapper with-out an ounce of brains in her head to a firm that I know from experience would not employ a capable woman and the flapper lands the job."

In Law Offices. "Lawyers, as a rule, hire middle-aged women for their stenographers more than any other type of men. I have found. Contractors are not quite so particular. Business men past 50 years of age, if they are not silly and in their second childhood, usually wish capable women over 30 or 35 years of age."

"It's the young men, about 27 or so, recently promoted to a position where their boss lets them hire a stenographer that bother the life out of me for young and pretty girls."

"I have found that when a man has really complicated work to be done, such as in a law office with its difficult phraseology of words, he wants a good stenographer regardless of height, size, weight, age or nationality."

"These days a stenographer truly must have 'it' to get a job."

The 1928 Stewarts
embody improvements that make them America's greatest truck value

One Ton 6 Cylinder 4 Wheel Brakes $995 chassis

FOR 15 years Stewarts have built up a reputation as quality trucks moderately priced. Today the 1928 Stewarts are being hailed as the outstanding truck value of the age.

The new Stewarts have all the latest known worthwhile mechanical improvements, plus the time-tested and proven Stewart features that have earned the motto, "Stewarts have won — By costing less to run."

Built to Last 5 Years or More

Stewart owners do not figure depreciation on a 2 or 3 year basis. They know by experience that the average life of a Stewart is 5 years or more. Many Stewarts have given their owners 8, 10 and 12 years of constant service.

Measured in miles and years of service, Stewarts cost less to buy and operate. Continuous service year in and year out on the road with minimum repair bills has given Stewart a world-wide reputation as "America's Greatest Truck Value."

Stewart Sales are Increasing

Stewart sales in 1926 were 41% greater than in 1925 and in 1927, 44% over 1926. These figures represent international recognition of Stewart value. The man who cannot afford to buy new trucks every year nor pay constant repair bills on old ones marks himself a Stewart prospect.

In Conference ...though miles apart

TALKING by long distance telephone is like holding a conference across your office desk. You have the benefit of a personal conversation which otherwise you would have to obtain at the expense of travel and time. It is the nearest thing to an actual visit as you will have the satisfaction of a full discussion and an immediate answer.

When you know the number wanted, you usually can be connected while you hold the line—frequently in a minute or less.

The cost of out-of-town telephone service is surprisingly low, as the rates on a few typical calls will show. For instance, calling by number during the day from Cleveland to Toledo costs only $.70; Cleveland to Columbus, $.85; Youngstown to Cleveland, $.55; Akron to Detroit, $.80; Canton to Pittsburgh, $.55; Youngstown to Philadelphia, $1.60; Cleveland to New York, $2.05; Cleveland to Chicago, $1.65.

Houston Pushes Convention Plans; Hall Is Near Ready; Find Hotels Are Big Problem

Houston, Texas, May 24. — With the National Foreign Trade convention off its hands, Houston has plunged into further preparations for the largest meeting of its history—the Democratic National convention.

Upholding the tradition of southern hospitality, local arrangements committees are overlooking nothing to provide every comfort for the 100,000 delegates and visitors expected from all parts of the United States.

The $200,000 convention hall, with a 25,000 seating capacity and the most perfect acoustics of any building of its kind in the world, is rapidly nearing completion and will be ready long before June 26.

Jesse H. Jones, the Texan who astounded the country a few months ago by landing the first Democratic conclave for the south since the Civil war, is personally directing the local arrangements.

New hotels are being rushed to completion to help care for the crowds expected during the convention, and thousands of rooming houses, apartments and private homes will be thrown open to the delegates if necessary.

Galveston An Attraction
Galveston, 50 miles away, with addition hotel facilities and the finest bathing beach in the world, will be drawn near to the convention through fast interurban service, street cars and bus lines running between the two cities.

Mayor Oscar Holcombe has launched a vigorous police campaign to rid the city of undesirable characters during the Democratic convention, and the city health department is directing a clean-up and home-beautiful drive over the city.

More than $25,000 has been spent in the last seven weeks in the East End alone, residential section of the middle class, in cleaning up and beautifying.

The convention hall, which already is proving a showplace to out of town visitors is 318 feet long and 338 feet wide. The greatest interior height from the floor to the dome will be 58 feet.

Seats on the main floor will accommodate approximately 10,000 persons. There will be room on the speaker's platform for 300 and for 120 more in the speaker's boxes. Near the speaker's platform will be 596 desks for newspapermen and press association representatives.

Thirty-four American eagles will decorate the roof. A picture of Woodrow Wilson will cover the side panels. Among the decorative effects will be Texas stars, grills and fan-shaped signs and festoons made of wood.

Radio and Phones
Another feature will be two sound-proof plate glass radio announcer's cages, one on either side of the speaker's platform. Fifty-eight telephone booths are being installed and 20 additional booths equipped with desks.

A private exchange connecting 60 telephones is being established.

COLUMBIANA

A capacity house enjoyed the Senior class play, "Adam and Eva," Tuesday evening in the High School auditorium.

The play was very well presented and each character handled his part in a fine manner. Much credit is due Miss Garnet Gooley and Miss Ethel Lotze who directed the play.

The Masonic lodge will hold inspection Friday night preceded by a banquet to be held in the Presbyterian church dining room.

A group of men who have been close friends of J. H. Weaver, principal of Columbiana High school, enjoyed a farewell party given in his honor by Carl Stacey, Monday night.

Three tables of "500" were in play following which a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Stacey.

Mrs. D. W. Benninghoff has been removed to the Clinic hospital, Cleveland for observation.

Mrs. Carl Stacey and Miss Elsie Deemer were shoppers in Youngstown, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hite and family visited the first of the week with Lee Geiser and family at East Palestine.

Glen Smith of Cleveland visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, recently.

Members of the eighth grade of Columbiana schools enjoyed a party Monday evening at the home of Mrs. W. C. McCord.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan visited Salem relatives Monday evening. The High school will hold their picnic Friday at Lake Placid, near Damascus.

The eighth grade will hold their picnic at Idora park, Friday.

You can forget your roast with the automatic "FLAVOR ZONE" oven

No need to manually labor and fuss for hours over a roast or oven dinner any more.

The Westinghouse FLAVOR ZONE oven browns and cooks automatically—without the least attention.

Just put your dinner—roast and vegetables—in the oven, make two simple adjustments, and then forget it. Don't go near the oven—don't touch the roast—until dinner time.

No other range, either fuel or electric, can perform first the browning and then the cooking operation under full automatic control. No other range can give you such complete freedom from the kitchen.

Come in and let us demonstrate this new and better cookery. No obligation.

F. O. B. FACTORY

70 horsepower 65 miles per hour

5000 miles in less than 4800 consecutive minutes—a record for stock cars priced below $1400.

The Erskine Six
$795 to $965

F. O. B. FACTORY

43 horsepower 62 miles per hour

A thousand miles in less than a thousand consecutive minutes—a record for stock cars priced below $1000.

ERSKINE Six, Dictator, Commander or President Eight—they're champions all! Read their separate, sweeping records—officially certified by the American Automobile Association. Champions in performance! Champions in stamina! Champions in durability! Studebaker has taken these three vital tests of value and proved them in the only way they can be proved—by heroic tests of strictly stock cars under official sanction.

Think what this means to you in terms of everyday service—in terms of getting the most for every dollar you invest in a motor car!

Studebaker Stands Supreme

These marvelous records made by Studebaker and Erskine cars are positive proof that they stand supreme and alone in their ability to travel thousands of miles at high speeds without mechanical trouble. These sensational proofs of inbuilt speed and endurance are direct results of Studebaker engineering genius, quality materials, precision manufacture and rigid inspections. For these reasons Studebaker and Erskine cars may safely be driven forty miles an hour the minute they leave the assembly line. Engine oil need be changed only at 2500-mile intervals.

When championship performance and championship stamina can be bought in Studebaker-built cars at One-Price prices (that in themselves set records of value), why be content with less than a champion?

Today Studebaker alone can offer you a champion in every price class. Come in today—drive a Studebaker champion! Let the car speak for itself.
